REMARKS—

PART I.—CONSTITUTION AND AREAS.

IN paragraph 811 of their Report the Royal Commission on Decentralization give statistics of the average population of municipalities in the various provinces of India, from which it appears that the powers of self-government provided in Municipal Acts were granted much more freely in the Punjab than elsewhere. This has not proved by any means an unmixed good in the case of the smaller towns which are distant from district head-quarters, and in several instances the statutory powers of committees have been exercised with partiality, if not with corruption; the assessment of taxation has not been equitable; the working of the octroi system has been especially faulty; and the cost of collection of the tax has been out of all proportion to the revenue derived from it. Above all the complicated procedure of the Municipal Act has been found unsuitable to the conditions of these smaller towns and the machinery required for its execution unnecessarily expensive. These were the considerations which in 1906 actuated Government in considering the advisability of reducing some minor municipalities either entirely or to the status of notified areas. The execution of this policy commenced in 1907-08 and has continued in the past year during which 25 municipalities have been transformed into notified areas and 1 reduced entirely. From the remarks on the working of certain committees in this year's reports it would appear that still further action in this direction is required. There has been a tendency to ask for the extension to notified areas of an unnecessary number of sections of the Municipal Act, and Government has in the past year indicated the sections that should be applied in all cases and those whose extension will be sanctioned without further question. Special reasons must be given for the extension of other sections.

The civil station of Karnal has been formed into a notified area separate from the municipality. This is probably the simplest way of arranging for the management of civil stations whose conditions and requirements generally differ entirely from those of the neighbouring municipality. Small mandis or markets are also best treated in this manner. Four such notified areas have been constituted in the Ferozepore district and one at Kaithal.

2. The elective system has been abolished at Dinanagar in the Gurdaspur district, a step which was taken with reluctance after repeated proofs of the scandalous methods adopted by candidates for securing election and the consistent misuse of their position. At Tarn Taran, in the Amritsar district, the system of sectional representation has been adopted, a definite number of seats being assigned to Hindus and Muhammadans. Since the question of separate representation of classes was brought prominently into notice in connection with the Reforms Scheme there have been many petitions from townspeople throughout the province asking that the system should be applied to their municipality.

3. There were 226 vacancies on committees to be filled by election in the past year. Of these only 55 were contested, and in 2 cases no candidate came forward, with the result that the seats had to be filled by nomination. Except in the larger municipalities there is seldom any keenness over elections, and a seat filled by appointment is much more coveted than one filled by election. The Deputy Commissioner of Gurdaspur remarks that many persons who would be useful members decline to stand for election if a contest is likely, owing to the prevalence of discreditable practices at elections. The Commissioner of Lahore, in commenting on this remark, points out that the elective system is apt to bring forward the thick-skinned politician in all countries. The large poll in the Kunjah election is ascribed by the Deputy Commissioner of the Gujrat district to the high prices paid for votes. He adds that it is not "the best fitted but the highest bidder who secures the largest number of votes." The Deputy Commissioner of the Shahpur district writes in the same strain. Possibly one of the results of allowing certain groups of municipal committees to elect members for the reconstituted Legislative Council may be to make the elective system more respected and to induce men of good standing to come forward more freely for election as municipal commissioners.

4. In the Municipal Act it is laid down that each municipal committee shall meet once a month, but among the smaller committees there are several who did not fulfil this injunction. In Batala, Pathankot and Kalanaur the number of meetings held was only three. The reason generally given for failure to attain the prescribed standard is want of business. Where three meetings in the year are sufficient for the transaction of all the business of a town it is very doubtful whether the municipal status is required, and the question of reduction might be considered where this has not already been done. The attendance of members at meetings is reported to be generally satisfactory.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to note that with a few exceptions the working of committees is said to have been good, and in very few cases has it been found necessary to overrule a resolution of a municipality. In the Hissar district, however, the Deputy Commissioner complains that members take little interest in municipal business. The Nurpur committee in the Kangra district appears to be hopelessly inefficient while mal-administration by the members of the Khanna municipal committee in the Ludhiana district has evoked loud complaints from the townspeople. His Honour is sorry to observe that, in spite of the remarks in last year's review, there has apparently been no improvement in the working of the Multan municipal committee. The Deputy Commissioner, Diwan Bahadur Diwan Narendra Nath, says—

"I do not know the state of things which prevailed in the year dealt with in the last report, but the relations between Hindus and Muhammadans are still very strained, both in the committee and in the town. The worst of it is that the Hindu employés of the committee look up to Hindu members and the Muhammadan employés to Muhammadan members for support, and this division of support is not observed as a covert principle, but is openly proposed in public meetings. Religious feeling is allowed to influence the disposal of such petty applications as those for the erection of ordinary buildings, projections or thallas, though at the last meeting, which is one of the three that I have attended, it was kept in check to some extent, and there was a tendency to decide the questions coming up on their merits.

"I do not despair of improvements, but the utmost that could be achieved in this direction is that the members and municipal officials may learn to keep up appearances".

The Commissioner believes that the ill-feeling referred to is mainly fomented and kept alive by a few persons only on either side. It is deplorable that such a state of affairs should continue to exist year after year in so important a city as Multan and the local authorities should do what they can to mark their disapproval of and to discourage the action of the few who perpetuate it. On the other hand, there has been a marked improvement in the conduct of affairs in Khushab and also in Bhera which has been notorious in recent years for a paralysing spirit of factiousness. The credit for this improvement is ascribed to the tact of the Tahsildars who preside over these two committees.

The Commissioner of the Jullundur division expresses the view that the grant of powers to sub-committees to deal finally with matters within their cognizance is the only way in which members can be induced to take real interest in municipal administration and remarks on the difficulty experienced in finding out how far such powers can be delegated. Under the present Municipal Act, unfortunately, such delegation is only possible to a very limited extent, but special provision has been made in the new draft Bill for conferring definite powers on sub-committees and officers of municipalities. The present procedure by which committees in many cases merely register the decree of an official President is generally irregular, and, what is worse, is entirely destructive of interest in municipal affairs.

The recommendations of the Royal Commission on Decentralization have been circulated for opinion, and though many of their proposals had previously been, or were already being, adopted in the Punjab, the outcome should be a considerable increase in the powers and responsibilities of municipalities, and His Honour has no doubt but that the ultimate result will be a real increase in interest in municipal affairs, though in the initial stages it is possible that a certain sacrifice of efficiency may result.

6. It is understood that most municipalities have now established provident funds and contribute thereto an amount equal to the deposit of the employé, vis., one anna per rupee of salary. Other improvements in the model provident fund rules have been adopted by many committees, the most important being a provision that the period of service which shall qualify an employé for the benefits of the fund shall be not less than 5 years. A growing desire has become manifest for the regulation of the sale of food stuffs in bazars and bye-laws on the subject have been enacted by a few committees. Another sign of the times is the increasing frequency of applications to have the provisions of section 203 of the Municipal Act extended to other menials besides sweepers in order to provide against the danger of strikes.

PART II.—TAXATION.

7. Octroi still continues to be the main source of municipal revenue. It was abolished in the towns from which the municipal status was taken away, and a house-tax was imposed on most of the newly-created notified areas. There has been a fairly general decrease in the receipts from octroi in the past year in spite of the steady revision of octroi schedules, which generally entails some increase in the rates levied. The decrease amounts to 2½ lakhs altogether. The reasons given are the general trade depression which prevailed, the severe epidemic of malaria caused by the heavy rains of 1908, the interruption of communications by floods, and the cessation of Hindu marriages for part of the year. This decrease can, therefore, be put down as one of the good points of the tax, for its incidence responds readily to any change in the material prosperity of the people.

8. Octroi has been brought prominently into public notice during the past year by the appointment of a committee in the United Provinces to consider the possibility of its abolition or of improving its assessment and collection in case abolition should appear out of the question, and it has been asked why the Punjab Government has been revising schedules and issuing instructions for their revision while a neighbouring province is seeking a way of abolishing the tax. The question rests on a misunderstanding. The revision of schedules that has been going on was commenced in consequence of the orders of the Government of India on the subject passed in 1904. In Rawalpindi, however, and possibly one or two smaller towns where the schedule had already been revised since 1904, the further changes that took place in the past year were due to special local circumstances. The instructions issued by the Local Government during the year as to the correct method of preparing octroi schedules were necessary to solve doubts which had been raised since the last Government orders on the subject were passed. At the same time while an enquiry into octroi administration was going on in the United Provinces, from which the Punjab has practically taken its existing octroi system, it would have been a work of supererogation to start a separate enquiry in this Province, and the Lieutenant-Governor preferred to await the report of the United Provinces committee. The Government of those Provinces has kindly supplied copies of that report to the Punjab and these have been circulated with a view to the adoption as far as possible of the improvements in the working of the tax which have been suggested in the report. The larger question of substituting a terminal tax without refunds in place of octroi will be considered later, but for the present it is sufficient to note that the provisions of the existing law as contained in section 42 (1) A (f) of the Punjab Municipal Act only allow a tax on animals or goods or both intended for use or consumption within the municipality and not on animals or goods intended for re-export, so that an amendment of the law will be necessary before the adoption of a terminal tax becomes legally possible.

9. As to the working of the tax it is a fairly general rule that the cost of collection is highest in the smallest and least efficient municipalities: in Dharmkot it reached the enormous figure of 42 per cent., in Kila Sobha Singh 38 per cent. and in Dera Nanak and Narowal 34 per cent. In such places an effort should be made to get rid of the impost as soon as possible and Deputy Commissioners should give the matter their attention and advise the smaller municipalities as to the course that should be followed. The proportion of refunds to gross receipts was high in the following towns:—

Bhiwani	...	...	...	32 per cent.
Rewari	...	...	...	27 „
Palwal	...	...	...	27 „
Khanna	...	...	...	25 „
Ludhiana	...	...	...	23.7 „

The Commissioner reports that it is intended to abolish the Khanna municipality: in the other cases it would appear that some articles of through trade are included in the schedule and unless they are also largely consumed in the town their exemption should be applied for. On the other hand no refunds at all were given in Buriya, Jagadhri, Dinanagar, Khushab and Bhera while in Kamalia it is reported that refunds are still given according to the rules that prevailed before the introduction of the Municipal Account Code. The cases of Khushab and Buriya were noticed in last year's review, but no action appears to have been taken on the remarks then made. The matter will be further enquired into. Meanwhile all the municipalities referred to should be asked to explain clearly why no refunds of octroi have been given. The statistics of refunds in the Simla municipality have brought out the hitherto unsuspected fact that Simla is a distributing centre for the trade of the surrounding hill. This trade appears to have attained considerable proportions, little hampered by the existence of octroi. Frauds in connection with the octroi revenue were discovered in several towns in the past year and in some cases successful prosecutions were instituted. The staff of the Examiner of Local Fund Accounts has again rendered useful service in pointing out defects in the administration of the tax and suggesting means by which money can be saved to the local bodies concerned.

10. The list of towns in which the incidence per head of taxation exceeds Rs. 2 is shorter by six than last year, and in several of the towns remaining on the list the incidence has decreased—

				Incidence.
				Rs. A. P.
Sirsa	...	...	...	2	2	8

To these must be added the following hill municipalities :—

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

11. In the present year's review it has been considered unnecessary to have a special section dealing with accounts; and only a few general remarks on the subject are called for. The aggregate income of the municipalities of the province was Rs. 57,07,000, the smallest figure since 1905-06. Octroi accounted mainly for the decrease, and the explanation has already been given in dealing with that tax. Other taxation brought in Rs. 4,57,000 of the total, a considerably larger sum than ever before. The re-assessment of properties in Simla and Delhi for the house-tax along with better supervision over collections is the main reason of this increase.

The revenue derived from municipal property, from medical institutions, slaughter-houses and license-fees have all considerably increased, which is specially satisfactory considering the stagnation shown by the octroi returns.

12. Municipal expenditure has reached a higher limit than at any time since 1902. Public safety, drainage and conservancy, medical relief and public buildings all have contributed to swell the total.

The aggregate cost of municipal administration and collection of taxes has been less than at any time since 1905-06, but the causes are mostly of a local or temporary character, and the decrease will possibly not be maintained for long.

Public safety has involved a greatly increased expenditure mainly owing to the construction of new police stations at Simla and Lyallpur.

Expenditure on Drainage and conservancy has been swelled by the inclusion of two lakhs on account of the cost of the Ludhiana water-works.

The other main items of expenditure will be noticed in dealing with the more important events of the year.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

13. The most serious feature in the history of the public health of towns in the year 1908-09 was, of course, the terrible outbreak of malaria that followed on the heavy monsoon of 1908. Several municipalities appear to have started a system of free distribution of quinine to combat this outbreak, and they later received grants from provincial revenues to the extent of their actual expenditure.

Plague was practically quiescent, if not non-existent, except in Khushab and in the Multan division, where Multan city had its first severe visitation and took it very badly. A state of panic prevailed and the city was almost deserted, in some cases even stricken relatives are said to have been left behind uncared for.

14. At Delhi the intra-mural drainage works were completed during the year. Their construction has been followed by a marked improvement in the cleanliness of the alleys which traverse the city in every direction. The extra-mural drainage scheme, which has received the administrative sanction of the Local Government, will now be undertaken.

Ambala has been unfortunate in its attempt to supplement the existing water-supply which runs short in the summer months when it is most required. An experimental boring made to a depth of 200 feet at the head-works at Handesra failed to find a water stratum.

The town of Fazilka was almost destroyed by a flood caused by the excessive rainfall of August 1908 coupled with the breaching of an inundation canal. The municipal committee are reported to have behaved exceedingly well in facing the disaster and to have supported outside measures for the alleviation of distress and the rebuilding of the town. Government remitted the income-tax for the year, the North-Western Railway gave reduced rates for the carriage of building materials, and the Local Government granted Rs. 10,000 for restoring the drainage system and improving the sewage outfall. The result of all these measures was to put heart into the people, and the town is said to have revived wonderfully.

The Ludhiana water-works were finally completed and handed over to the municipal committee in November 1908.

In Lahore stone metal has been adopted in place of kankar for paving the roads, with, it is said, a saving of 50 per cent. The experience in Delhi would appear to be the other way, for the Municipal Engineer reports that kankar roads stand much better than roads metalled with Delhi stone which break up during the hot weather in places where it is not possible to water them. Some progress has been made with the scheme for the drainage of Amritsar city. Plans and estimates for the work have been prepared and sanctioned administratively, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no delay will be allowed to occur in their execution.

In the Rawalpindi division the most important achievements have been the completion of the Pind Dadan Khan water-supply scheme and of the drainage scheme at Jhelum.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions and Deputy Commissioners of districts in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department. Also that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of municipal committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

H. P. TOLLINTON,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

REPORT
WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES
IN THE PUNJAB

READ—

The annual Municipal Administration Reports and Returns for the year 1909-10.

PART I.

REMARKS.—The process of converting the smaller municipalities into notified areas continues. During the year Kalanaur and Sujanpur were turned into notified areas. No new municipality was established, but new notified areas were constituted in Fatahjang and Hassan Abdal (Attock district), Pattoki Mandi (Lahore), Bhuchho (Ferozepore) and Bhalwal (Shahpur).

2. The elections excited little interest in the greater part of the province. In the Lahore division there were only 6 contests among 38 vacancies. In the Rawalpindi division there were no contests at all in the districts of Rawalpindi, Attock, Shahpur and Mianwali. In the Multan division 19 vacancies produced 3 contests. Further south, however, the Commissioner of Delhi reports that in his division there is considerable keenness in municipal elections, due to the fact that groups of municipalities elect a Member to the Legislative Council. But even in the Delhi division there is apathy. Rohtak is said to take no interest in elections, while in Jhajjar and Bahadurgarh two elective seats had to be filled by nomination as no candidates appeared. In Jullundur city the influence of recent legislation is reported to have been most apparent. Although the retiring members were re-elected, the Deputy Commissioner remarks that they had to bestir themselves, as the opposing candidates were good men and members of the educated community. There thus appear to be indications that election by municipalities of Members of the Provincial Council will produce in time greater interest in municipal elections. It is to be hoped that the appearance in the arena of a better class of candidates will reduce the scandals and the bribery to which the Deputy Commissioner of Gujrat, among others, alludes. In this connexion the Commissioner of Rawalpindi has suggested that a case has been made out for raising the property qualification. The Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to consider detailed proposals in this direction. The system of sectional representation has been tried in a few municipalities in the province, and has generally served to reduce friction. There is, however, some difference of opinion on the subject. The Commissioner of Multan has declared against class constituencies, and considers the system responsible in part for the bad relations that obtain between Hindus and Muhammadans in Multan. The town of Ambala has also declared against it. While recognizing that the objections to the system may in many cases outweigh its advantages, the Lieutenant-Governor has noted with interest the amount of success that the experiment has achieved, and desires to impress on district officers the necessity for watching the system carefully where it exists, and taking elsewhere any measures that seem likely to reduce factional feeling.

3. With few exceptions the committees have met regularly during the year. Delhi heads the list with 70 meetings, followed by Ambala with 57 and Simla with 56. Among the smaller towns, Bhera, 28, and Sahiwal, 27, are conspicuous. It is to be hoped that more frequent intercourse will tend to reduce the personal animus for which both these towns have been notorious. Kartarpur and Banga, Dera Nanak and Srigobindpur, Beri, Rewari and Thanesar, Chakwal and Rajanpur, are among the committees which did not meet once a month. In Beri the reason given is that the Tahsildar President was too busy. The Ramdas committee met once only. Here the Deputy Commissioner is President, and could only find time to visit the town once. The Commissioners of Delhi and Lahore should consider whether the interests of Beri and Ramdas do not suggest the replacement of these busy officials by local Presidents. The reduction of the numbers of municipal councillors is said to have improved attendance in Hissar and Karnal. The Commissioner of Jullundur notes that if the official President is absent, the attendance is apt to be poor.

4. The working of the committees has on the whole been unexceptionable ; in no case of importance was it found necessary to over-rule the decision of a committee. Sub-committees are beginning to show their usefulness. Keen workers are to be found occasionally, as in Sialkot, where the two Vice-Presidents, Lala Gyan Chand and Agha Bakar Khan, are said to devote themselves heart and soul to the interests of the municipality. Faction quarrels are reported from a number of towns, and are said to be especially bad in Jandiala and Ramnagar. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that matters appear to be improving in Multan. The new Municipal Bill gives more scope for individual action and delegation to sub-committees. His Honour trusts that next year's report will show a corresponding advance in local self-government.

PART II.—TAXATION.

5. Octroi maintains its position as the main source of municipal revenue. The report of the United Provinces committee on the subject was circulated for opinion, and as far as the Punjab is concerned, the prospect of abolishing octroi has been relegated to the distant future. The Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the tax is not generally unpopular, whereas the only probable substitutes—house and profession taxes—are highly unpopular. The proposal of the Lahore committee to impose a quit tax was defeated by the refusal of the North-Western Railway to co-operate. That committee has under consideration a proposal put forward by the Lahore Trades Union and the Lahore Trades Association to impose a light terminal tax on certain articles in lieu of octroi ; and the Commissioner of Lahore reports that a section of the people at Amritsar desire to introduce a terminal tax there. But whatever may be the upshot of these schemes, it is clear that octroi in some form or other, for a terminal tax is only a form of octroi, must be maintained as the principal source of income in most of the municipalities in the plains for a number of years to come, and the Lieutenant-Governor therefore wishes to insist on the necessity for making the machinery for its collection as perfect as may be. It is gratifying to notice that, in the matter of establishments, many improvements and additions have been made. It is often false economy to reduce the octroi staff, and those committees which have increased their supervising staff have generally found it pay to do so. Octroi boundaries have been revised in Jullundur, Sialkot, Kaithal, Hidayatpur Chaoni, Chiniot and Hazro. The revision of octroi schedules which began in 1905 is now nearly complete, and Commissioners should expedite the revision of those remaining. In this connection the Lieutenant-Governor is forced to comment unfavourably on the lack of supervision exercised by Deputy Commissioners and Commissioners over the preparation of revised octroi schedules. The rules on the subject are concise and clear, and Commissioners should see that all schedules forwarded by them to Government have been made to conform to these rules.

6. As to the working of the tax, it is inevitable that the cost of collection should vary in inverse proportion to the size and prosperity of the town. As compared with last year the cost of collection has fallen considerably. Dharmkot, which last year paid 42 per cent. of its octroi for collection, now gets it collected for 26 per cent. In Dera Nanak the cost has fallen from 34 to 23 per cent. In the municipalities of the Rohtak district the cost of collection has fallen from 28 to 24 per cent. Embezzlement by the octroi staff was detected at Khanna, Gujrat and Fazilka, and criminal prosecutions instituted. The income from octroi rose in Jullundur by 25 per cent. after revision of the schedule, and in the municipalities of the Ferozepore district by 51 per cent. In Lahore there was an increase of Rs. 36,000 under this head.

7. The Commissioner of Multan has pointed out that the standards prescribed in 1885 for the incidence of octroi per head of population are no longer appropriate. They have in fact been exceeded by most of the municipalities in the province. Calculated on the population of the town, the incidence of octroi exceeds Rs. 3 per head in Mianwali, Rawalpindi and Lahore. It exceeds Rs. 2 in eleven other towns. However, in the tenth year of a census no great reliance can be placed on statistics of population. The standard of consumption is equally unreliable, and the Commissioners of Delhi and Lahore agree in condemning it as obsolete.

8. The subject of refunds was dealt with at length in last year's review, and the Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to find that the smaller municipalities are giving more attention to it. In some cases financial stringency has been put forward as a reason for the absence of refunds, but this reason cannot be accepted as sufficient. It must be impressed upon municipal committees that a liberal system of refunds is the only justification for the retention of octroi. At the same time every precaution should be taken against fraud. The Amritsar committee have represented that articles imported by post which pay no octroi are re-exported and a refund of octroi claimed on them. If this fraud can be shown to be common, His Honour will be prepared to consider the advisability, or indeed the necessity, of providing that claimants to refunds must prove original payment.

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

9. The municipal finances of the province are on the whole in a flourishing condition. The aggregate income of the municipalities was Rs. 59,90,000 as against Rs. 57,00,000 in 1908-09, and their expenditure Rs. 58,56,000 as against Rs. 59,35,000. Balances fell below the prescribed minimum in the municipalities of Hansi, Phillaur, Rahon, Nakodar, Hazro, Rawalpindi, Multan and Muzaffargarh and in the notified areas of Najafgarh, Kalanaur, Anandpur, Kalka and Kadian. The octroi schedule of Thanesar has been revised in order to restore financial equilibrium. The Commissioner of Jullundur remarks that the balances of small municipalities in Jullundur district often fall below the prescribed minimum. His Honour would be glad if the Commissioner would take measures to amend this state of things.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

10. The year was prosperous and healthy. There was little malarial fever, and municipal towns with the exception of Multan, Ballabgarh and Sonapat remained free from plague. There were slight floods in Muktsar and Majitha, and petty fires are reported from Moga and elsewhere. But the year was exceptionally free from natural calamities. The recovery of Fazilka after the great flood of August 1908 is said to be complete.

11. Drainage schemes are engaging the attention of a number of municipal committees, especially in the Lahore division. In Amritsar the clearance of the storm-water channels round the city and the consequent fall of two feet in the water-level in four of the Dhabs represents an achievement which in itself would justify the appointment of a Municipal Engineer. The municipality is to be congratulated on this contribution towards the solving of that most difficult problem—the drainage of Amritsar city. Few other public works of importance are recorded, but the example of the Lahore committee, in framing a comprehensive drainage scheme which can be carried out in compartments, may be commended to the notice of other municipalities.

12. Government has provided the cities of Lahore and Amritsar with whole-time Health Officers, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that some improvement in the sanitary condition of these cities may be the result.

13. The preparation of a record-of-rights for the nazul lands in and round Delhi is an interesting and important departure. The Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that some reliable record of title is desirable in many municipal towns, and the question is at present engaging His Honour's attention.

14. Perhaps the most encouraging sign of the times is the tendency—mentioned in last year's review—to adopt bye-laws regulating the conditions of sale of food and drink. Bye-laws under section 137 of the Municipal Act were considered during the year in Ambala, Jagadhri, Rohtak, Karnal, Ferozepore, Lahore, Gurdaspur and Jhelum.

15. The Commissioner of Multan maintains that there is progress in municipal administration, at any rate in the larger towns. He points to the testimony of the Sanitary Commissioner that the drainage of Multan has greatly improved in the last twenty years, and he observes that a class is coming into existence which is really sensitive to the grosser sanitary defects and to the inconvenience of bad roads and lighting. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Maynard that the main handicap on progress is the sectarian spirit, and that "if the new patriotism would seek opportunities of allaying class animosity, it might facilitate the elimination of official supervision in purely local affairs."

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions and Deputy Commissioners of districts in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department. Also that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to the Deputy Commissioners for the information of municipal committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, Punjab,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab.

§ The difference of Rs. 37 between this figure and the last year's balance is due to the fact that the cost of quinine refunded in 1908-09 was not accounted for by the municipality in the annual returns last year.

* The difference between this figure and the closing balance of the year 1908-09 is due to the exclusion of the balances of the Kalanaur and Sujapur municipalities, which have been converted into notified areas, and to the increase in the opening balances of Amritsar, Pind Dadan Khan and Jampur municipalities due to certain adjustments made by the municipal committees last year after submission of returns.

REPORT
IN THE
PUNJAB

READ—

The Annual Municipal Administration Reports and Returns for the year 1910-11.

PART I.

NO new municipality was created in the year 1910-11. The civil station at Dharmsala was made a notified area, and new notified areas were constituted at Sillanwali (Shahpur) and Chorutta (Dera Ghazi Khan). The municipalities of Nurpur (Kangra) and Srigobindpur (Gurdaspur) were converted to notified areas. The Lieutenant-Governor has had under consideration the expediency of abolishing more of the smaller notified areas and municipalities in the Punjab, with a view to freeing small semi-urban communities in which municipal administration is not appreciated from the harassments incidental to municipal control.

2. From four divisions comes the report that little interest is taken in municipal elections. In the Rawalpindi division thirty seats fell vacant, but only nine were contested. In the Multan division out of twenty-five vacancies eight were contested. The Commissioner of Lahore remarks that out of the fifty-three seats, which fell vacant in his division, only eight were contested, while fourteen municipalities "escaped the necessity of a contest." The Deputy Commissioner of Gujranwala, however, considers that the fact that there are not many actual contests does not show want of interest or absence of emulation. The contest, Shaikh Asghar Ali believes, goes on privately until the candidate who has no chance of success retires rather than face the poll. It is still the fact that in the Northern Punjab at any rate it is a greater honour to be nominated than to be elected.

3. In the southern part of the province things are rather different. In Jagraon the contest was so keen that it ended in a riot. In Delhi the elections were keenly though peacefully contested, and from Ambala, Jagadhri and Sadhaura (Ambala) come reports that great interest is taken in the elections. In Palwal 92 per cent. of the voting strength came to the poll,—a percentage which it would be hard to beat in England. The refusal of Europeans to vote in Murree is possibly due to the fugitive character of the population of a hill station, though Mr. Maynard may be right in believing that apathy regarding municipal affairs is not peculiar to India, and that the main obstacle to the progress of local self-Government in this country is not racial inertia, but the strength of religious and party factions, which prevent any real co-operation between men of different views and creeds.

4. Sectional representation has now been extended to Wazirabad, though not without protest from one section of the community. The representation of minorities has been secured in Fazilka by dividing the town into wards, and in Firozpur-Jhirka (Gurgaon) by revising the election rules. Elsewhere proposals have been made to introduce the principle of "one man one vote" with the same object. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that sectional representation, where it exists, is still on its trial, and recognizes the force of one of the objections which have been raised against it, viz., that it sometimes promotes the election of men of extreme views. In cases where the adequate representation of minorities can be secured by other means, His Honour thinks that the possible alternatives should first be considered.

5. The municipal committees in the large towns met regularly and frequently. Delhi held 63 meetings, Lahore 24, Amritsar 25 and Simla 56. Among the minor municipalities very few held less than the prescribed number of meetings. The notified area of Ramdas (Amritsar) held only one meeting this year as last. Once more the Lieutenant-Governor must commend to the Commissioner of Lahore the necessity of making some arrangement either to enable the official President to visit Ramdas more than once a year or to replace him by a non-official. The attendance at committee meetings was generally good, though in Ferozepore seven meetings and in Chiniot three were adjourned for lack of a quorum. In Ludhiana two members who absented themselves from three consecutive meetings failed to secure re-election. The official President of the Sahiwal municipal committee failed to attend 18 meetings out of 27. The Lieutenant-Governor is impressed with the expediency of replacing official by non-official Presidents wherever possible in all except the most important municipalities, though in all probability this step would be premature in the case of a town so torn by faction as Sahiwal.

6. Most Deputy Commissioners report that the working of the committees has been satisfactory. Sub-committees are extending their sphere of activity and usefulness, relieving the general committee of much routine work, supervising various branches of executive work and preparing business for the general committee. In Delhi sub-committees held 73 meetings. Vice-Presidents are doing good work in a few instances, particularly Mian Nazar Muhammad and Lala Ganga Ram in Ambala, Babu Jowahir Lal in Hissar, and Rai Sahib Ram Gopal in Sirsa. The proceedings of the committees were rarely over-ruled, though the intervention and counsel of the Deputy Commissioner is often required to moderate personalities. In Multan, where party feeling generally runs high, the Deputy Commissioner reports that under his general supervision the members have been ready to come to reasonable decisions. In Bhera inefficiency caused by racial animosities induced the local officers to recommend the abolition of the elective system, and in Kalanaur (Gurdaspur) the Deputy Commissioner has been constrained to propose the entire abolition of municipal status. The Deputy Commissioner of Jullundur mentions Nakodar as a particularly flagrant example of administrative paralysis due to party feeling. "When one party," he writes, "takes up any matter, however trivial, the other party at once goes into opposition, quite irrespective of the merits of the case." In remote and backward communities it is perhaps inevitable that personal feelings should obscure the issues. In the case of Lahore, however, the Lieutenant-Governor has read with grave misgivings the remark of the Deputy Commissioner that on a matter of general interest, namely, the electrical scheme, the business side of the question was entirely ignored, and the question decided more on racial grounds than any other. If the capital city of the province sets an example of sectional prejudice, it is not surprising that Bhera and Nakodar should follow suit.

7. The bye-laws passed by municipal committees during the year have for the most part been in the direction of a closer supervision over the sale of food and drink and the custody of explosives. The towns of Karnal, Rohtak, Dalhousie and Kaithal have made bye-laws in this behalf, while Ambala, Kaithal, Dalhousie and Jullundur and the smaller towns in Gujrat have found it necessary to regulate the storage of petroleum.

PART II.—TAXATION.

8. The possibility of abolishing octroi has again been under the consideration of Government. From representations that have been received the Lieutenant-Governor is strengthened in the conviction that octroi is not unpopular with the mass of the people. However strong the economic objections to it may be, the practical objections to its abolition in favour of direct taxation are at present stronger, though it may be feasible in some municipalities to replace it by another form of indirect taxation, vis, a terminal tax. The question whether this last kind of tax is generally appropriate for Indian municipalities has recently been under consideration, and a final decision has not yet been arrived at. In notified areas house or profession taxes are generally imposed in lieu of octroi. House-taxes are not popular, and the Deputy Commissioner of Gujrat remarks that they are hard to collect. The Commissioner of Rawalpindi considers that the house-tax is unpopular everywhere, probably because in this country the size and quality of houses do not vary with the means of their occupants. Decayed gentilefolk live in corners of large old houses. Rich traders sometimes live in hovels. Rent is often regulated more by custom than by competition. Objection has been raised to profession taxes on the ground that the successful and the unsuccessful trader are taxed at the same rate. These objections are not without force, and the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the problem of financing local expenditure in small towns is yet to be solved. In Simla a new experiment in taxation was introduced during the year—a conservancy tax of Rs. 2 per adult male per annum replacing the servants' tax. The tax is theoretically open to the same objection of unfairness as the house and profession taxes, but its imposition was recommended by a committee of experienced officers, in connection with the question of the improvement of Simla, and, though complaints have been made that the tax is difficult and expensive to collect and that it has caused a material increase in the cost of labour and domestic service, the Lieutenant-Governor will reserve his opinion until a report, which he has called for, on the first year's working of the tax has been received.

9. The working of octroi during the year has been easy and uneventful. The municipal committee of Lahore found it necessary to amend article 74 of the Municipal Account Code to prevent fraudulent refunds being granted on articles imported free through the post. Direct collection of octroi is the general rule, but the Karnal municipal committee have leased the collection of octroi on vegetables and fresh fruits. The receipts from the tax have risen in Lahore by 4 per cent. and in Amritsar by 21 per cent. In Delhi there was an increase of Rs. 40,000, and an increase of Rs. 35,000 in Multan has justified the appointment of a permanent Octroi Superintendent on good pay. The cost of collection has fallen in places, particularly in the Rawalpindi division. The percentage of establishment charges to gross income varies largely and unaccountably. In Gurdaspur it is 34 per cent. and in Ludhiana only 5 per cent.

10. Refunds are freely given in nearly all towns. Sharakpur (Gujranwala) paid no refunds during the year on the alleged ground that the income of the municipality would not otherwise suffice to meet its expenditure. As the Commissioner of Lahore remarks, the persistent refusal of this committee to pay refunds can only end in the abolition of the municipality. The percentage of refunds is high in Ambala (31 per cent.), Bhiwani (31 per cent.), Fazilka (28 per cent.) and Phillaur (26 per cent.). In Lahore nearly one lakh of rupees (or 14 per cent.) was refunded, and in Amritsar Rs. 1,13,000 (or 20 per cent.). The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner of Delhi that the octroi schedules of these towns require careful scrutiny with a view to the exclusion from the tax of staple articles of through trade. It is in this direction that municipal committees should endeavour to reduce the cost of collection and the octroi establishment.

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

11. The aggregate income of the municipalities in the province rose from Rs. 59,92,000 in 1909-10 to Rs. 63,93,000 in 1910-11. The increase was chiefly due to octroi. Payments rose from Rs. 58,56,000 to Rs. 63,85,000. Closing balances stood at Rs. 16,27,000 in 1909-10 and at Rs. 16,24,000 in 1910-11. Every fund opened and closed with a credit balance, but various towns came perilously near a deficit. Rahon (Jullundur) with an income of Rs. 12,000 closed with a balance of Rs. 501. Hazro (Attock) with an income of Rs. 22,000 closed with a balance of Rs. 1,191. Among the notified areas Hidayatpur (Gurgaon) with an income of Rs. 1,700 closed with a balance of Rs. 58. On the whole, however, the accounts of the municipalities show a decided improvement, and His Honour's acknowledgments are due to the Local Fund auditors whose careful inspections are in the main responsible for this. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with pleasure the auditor's remarks that in Ramdas (Amritsar) and Fatehgarh (Gurdaspur) the accounts are well-kept and personally supervised by members of the committees. At the same time, His Honour must comment on the careless way in which the annual returns are submitted to Government. Almost every statement has to be returned for correction. A little more care in preparation and an adequate check in the Deputy Commissioner's office would obviate the necessity for these troublesome references.

12. The loan statement is almost blank. The Delhi municipal committee drew the first instalment of the loan of three lakhs which has been sanctioned for the extra-mural drainage scheme.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

13. The general health of municipal towns has been good throughout the province, save for plague. Floods occurred at Bhakhar (Mianwali) and Hazro (Attock). A fire in Multan city caused damage up to half-a-lakh of rupees.

14. The experiment of providing whole-time Health-Officers in Lahore, Amritsar and Simla is proving successful. Water-works are under construction or awaiting sanction in Rewari (Gurgaon) and Isa Khel (Mianwali). Drainage schemes are beyond the capacity of the smaller towns, but are being pushed on in Lahore and Amritsar. In Amritsar where the problem is exceptionally difficult the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that it is being seriously taken up. Now that they are to be relieved of police charges, the Amritsar municipal committee find themselves in a position to spend Rs. 30,000 annually on city drainage. A scheme is being made out which can be completed in instalments, and the note of the Municipal Engineer shows that every precaution is being taken to make the drainage effectual. Grants of Rs. 24,000 have been made to Amritsar for the drainage and reclamation of the dhabs or large swamps which surround the town, and considerable expenditure is being incurred by Government in draining the riverain areas in Delhi and Lahore. In the case of Delhi the Chief Malaria Officer reports that the drainage operations have already resulted in the extermination of the malaria-carrying mosquitos in the fort area. In Delhi the municipal committee also spent a lakh during the year on the extra-mural drainage scheme.

15. The Delhi committee are preparing with great care and at considerable cost a map of the municipality which should be of great value. The Lieutenant-Governor would commend the example of Delhi to the other large towns in the Province.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions and Deputy Commissioners of districts in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Education Department. Also that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of municipal committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF
MUNICIPALITIES
IN THE
PUNJAB
DURING THE YEAR

READ—

The Annual Municipal Administration Reports and Returns for the year 1911-12.

PART I.

REMARKS.—The most important feature of the year under review is the introduction of the new Punjab Municipal Act, which came into force on 1st October 1911. It has remedied certain defects in the old Act, and has extended the powers of municipal committees in various useful directions. The question of the reduction of the smaller notified areas, to which reference was made in last year's review, has been further considered, with the result that in the Rohtak district 8 notified areas have been removed from the operation of the Municipal Act. In Gurdaspur also similar proposals have been formulated. In the rest of the province the district officers have generally reported that the inhabitants of small towns have shown no marked desire for the abolition of municipal institutions; and the Lieutenant-Governor has accepted this opinion, but has expressed his readiness to consider proposals for reduction of municipal status in petty towns occupied largely by agriculturists in any case in which the rate-payers wish it with a view to the simplification of accounts and reduction of work.

New notified areas have been established in the colony towns of Jaranwala and Phularwan and in the new Dera Ghazi Khan. The notified area of Gojra, in Lyallpur district, was converted into a municipality.

2. As usual the reports on municipal elections disclose a general apathy and indifference on the part of the public, except where party or sectarian feeling runs high. In the Delhi division the proportion of contests to vacancies was small throughout the division, there being only 6 contests for 43 vacancies. In Delhi itself, out of six seats only one was contested, while in Bahadurgarh a vacancy had to be filled by a member nominated under section 14 (b) of the Act, this being the third member of this kind in this committee.

In the Jullundur division, where there were in all 52 vacancies, only 8 contests occurred, and these in the municipalities of Jullundur and Hoshiarpur alone. In the remaining 9 municipalities of the division there were no contests at all. The Commissioner, however, remarks "that probably seats are contested privately to a greater extent than appears from the district reports, the unsuccessful candidates withdrawing when they find that their canvass does not lead them to expect a majority."

3. The same view is held by the Commissioner, Lahore, in whose division 35 seats out of 69 were contested, 25 of the contests taking place in Lahore and Amritsar. In both these cities there were keen struggles for election. In Lahore the contests were under the new election rules, which are reported to have worked satisfactorily on the whole. The Commissioner, however, is somewhat doubtful whether they provide sufficient safeguards against the admission of fictitious or unqualified voters, especially if departures from the rules requiring personal registration are permitted without adequate precaution. The Government has enjoined strict adherence to these rules in future. In Wazirabad, where sectional representation is in force, there were 11 candidates for one seat, and polling is said to have been very keen.

In the Multan division the proportion of contests to vacant seats was small, but in the municipalities of Muzaffargarh, Khangarh and Montgomery all vacancies were contested. The Rawalpindi division shows a better return than the others, 29 vacancies providing 21 contests. Even so the Commissioner comments on the general lack of interest in elections.

4. The sectional system of representation introduced at Fazilka hardly appears to have had the desired result. The city was divided into wards, the object being to secure adequate representation of the Muhammadan minority.

No member of that community has, however, been elected, although one of the wards contains a large Muhammadan majority. As a result of the apathy of the Murree voter and the unsatisfactory working of the committee, the constitution of that committee was changed, the number of ex-officio members being increased from 4 to 7, while 7 nominated and 2 elected members replace 8 elected members. The Murree report is silent on the subject of the success or the reverse of this change, and the Commissioner remarks that there is nothing in the report to show how the committee has discharged its duties towards the tax-payers or whether the changed constitution has in any way benefitted the residents.

5. The number of meetings held in most municipalities and the average attendance is generally satisfactory. In Delhi there were 60 meetings, in Lahore and Amritsar 23 each, while the Simla committee held 52.

Most of the minor municipalities held the prescribed number of meetings, though there were some notable exceptions. There were only two meetings of the committee of the notified area of Ram Das, which was commented on in last year's review. The paucity of the meetings is due to the fact that the official President is seldom able to preside. The appointment of a non-official President, who will be able to fulfil his duties, has so far not been found practicable. Chiniot is again conspicuous for the lack of interest shown by its members. Last year three meetings were postponed for want of a quorum, and this year the number has been doubled. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that it will not be necessary to animadvert on this committee again. The change in the constitution of the Murree committee has not apparently induced the members to take much interest in municipal administration. The average attendance is only 7·86 per cent., which is less than that of any other committee in the province. The proposal suggested in last year's review that non-official Presidents should replace officials in the majority of the smaller municipalities has been referred to Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners, but the enquiry has not brought to light any general desire on the part of the people to be freed from official guidance. Some officers have expressed the opinion that local self-government would collapse without such guidance, and that the more primitive the local body the greater is the necessity for official control. Sir Louis Dane has been forced to the conclusion that, for the present at any rate, efficiency is not compatible with unguided local self-government in small municipalities and notified areas, and that the abolition of the official President would lead to a falling off in efficiency. Where however the President is an absentee, some inefficiency is inevitable, and His Honour is not convinced that it would be seriously increased in all cases by the appointment of a local non-official President. Commissioners have accordingly been instructed to examine and report on all cases where the President is a non-resident official.

6. The working of committees is reported to be satisfactory generally, and sub-committees continue to do good work in most municipalities, the Delhi sub-committees being especially noticeable with 88 meetings. In Ballabgarh and Sonapat, however, the sub-committees failed to meet at all during the year. In the Delhi division sectarian feelings and personal enmity are reported to have caused trouble in Hansi, Bhiwani, Gohana and Rohtak. The good work of the Vice-Presidents of the committee of Ambala—Lala Ganga Ram and M. Ali Muhammad—is again commented on by the Commissioner. In the Jullundur division the municipality of Khanna is reported to have long been notoriously inefficient.

The reports from Multan division are satisfactory. Lyallpur, however, has been unfortunate in suffering from the defalcations of two successive treasurers.

The Commissioner of Rawalpindi comments on the confusion of the accounts of the Khushab municipality, and also reports that ill-feeling between the families of two rival candidates for the post of President has been a source of trouble in Jalalpur Jattan, whilst the bitter faction-feeling in Gujrat necessitates very close supervision over the working of the committee. No important over-rulings of resolutions are reported, though in a few cases committees have been asked to reconsider their decisions.

On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that personal animosity and sectarian feeling have been less noticeable than usual in municipal affairs. His Honour would, however, remark on the meagre nature of the reports of the important 1st class municipalities of Murree and Dalhousie, with regard to the former of which the Commissioner observes that "it is hardly worthy of a 1st class municipality. Possibly the committee has administered its affairs wisely and economically, but has certainly not provided residents of Murree with all the amenities they desire. Inability of the committee to make roads on which people could walk without discomfort and ride without danger might have been explained and justified." In view of these remarks and the poor average attendance alluded to above, the Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to observe that the increase in the official and nominated element on the committee has not so far been justified by results, and he trusts that the members will display greater zeal in the future. An attempt has been made in Dalhousie to secure greater continuity of administration by enlarging the limits of the sub-division and appointing a Sub-Divisional Officer for two years, and perhaps something of the kind may be successful in Murree, where for some time past municipal administration has not been very satisfactory.

7. The important sanitary question of the regulation and supervision of stables and cow-houses has been attended to in Lyallpur and Murree, where bye-laws have been framed for that purpose. Lahore and Rawalpindi have passed new bye-laws for dealing with hackney carriages, and Murree has made rules relating to motor-cars and the storage of petroleum. The extension of the Vaccination Act to the Ferozepore district has led to new bye-laws in Fazilka, Muktsar and Dharmkot. An important amendment to rule 74 of the Municipal Account Code has been introduced in a few of the larger municipalities. That rule lays down that in dealing with claims for the refund of octroi no proof whatever of the payment of the tax shall be demanded. As the Postal Department is unwilling to assist municipal committees in assessing and recovering octroi on articles imported by post, unscrupulous traders are enabled to evade octroi by means of the parcels post and to obtain refunds of a tax which they have not paid. Government has therefore sanctioned a relaxation of the Code rule, and authorized certain committees to demand proof of previous payment of octroi in the case of a few specified articles which, owing to their light weight and high value, offer special facilities for this form of fraud.

PART II.—TAXATION.

8. Octroi continues to be the chief source of municipal revenue and is certainly the least unpopular form of taxation in the Punjab. The Commissioner, Jullundur, remarks that "the tax being indirect is popular with the people. The tendency seems to be for every one to think that the burden of it falls on some one else." The Commissioner, Lahore, while generally corroborating this opinion, points out the necessity of close effective supervision if the tax is not to hamper through trade. He also refers to the difficulty of obtaining sufficient income from octroi in small towns, especially where agricultural land is included within octroi limits. The obvious gain to the owners of the land furnishes a strong motive to a small committee to abstain from remedying a condition so detrimental to octroi income. A proposal was considered by the Lahore committee to replace octroi by a terminal tax, but it was found that the income resulting from this would be insufficient for the municipality's needs without the addition of some form of direct taxation.

The reports of the year only confirm the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor that the great majority of the urban population in the Punjab prefers indirect to direct taxation. The question whether the former may properly take the form of a terminal tax, without the refunds incidental to the octroi system, has not yet been decided. House taxes continue to call forth bitter complaints from those who are compelled to pay them, but His Honour thinks that the unpopularity of this tax may be mitigated if greater effort is made to assess it in a less arbitrary manner. An experiment is being made in a notified area in the Sialkot district, in which area will be made the basis of the tax, but the locality and quality of the building and the class of the residents will also be taken into account. The result will be watched with interest. Doubts have arisen as to the legality of some of the taxes in force in many notified areas, and towards the end of the year instructions were issued for the revision of these taxes where necessary.

New taxes were imposed in Batala where a frontage tax was imposed on houses within municipal but outside octroi limits; and in Sialkot where a wheel tax and a toll on vehicles entering the municipality has been enforced. Difficulties are experienced in the collection of the wheel tax. The conservancy tax, introduced last year at Simla, brought in about Rs. 4,500 less than was expected, and it is estimated that some 2,000 to 3,000 persons entering and even residing in municipal limits evade payment. The report refers to the difficulty of getting a staff always able and willing to collect the tax on salaries that already absorb some 12 per cent. of the proceeds. This tax has replaced the old servants' tax, which in 1910-11 brought in a revenue of Rs. 21,754. The conservancy tax has only produced an increase of Rs. 13,855, and apparently the cost of the special staff employed to collect it amounts to 30 per cent. on this increase. This result can hardly be regarded as satisfactory from a financial point of view, though the greater control obtained over the floating population of Simla may compensate for this by greater efficiency in sanitation and administration.

Octroi schedules have been revised in Gurdaspur, Gujranwala, Montgomery, Kamalia, Ferozepore, Rahon, Kharar and the municipalities of Shahpur district.

9. The working of octroi has generally been satisfactory, but there are some marked exceptions. In Sialkot two muharrirs were convicted of embezzlement, and the inquiry, which revealed the fact that fraud and peculation had been rife for a long time, culminated in the trial of a Municipal Commissioner and his son and a wealthy trader and contractor of the town. The trials were not completed by the end of the year under report. In Rawalpindi also embezzlements were brought to light at the annual audit. His Honour hopes that proper arrangements will be made to prevent a recurrence of similar frauds in future. Receipts from the tax have risen in Lahore by 7.5 per cent., in Amritsar by 3.80 per cent., and in Delhi 19.30 per cent. Most municipalities record an increase, and decreases have been satisfactorily accounted for.

The cost of collection has risen in the Lahore division, but fallen in Rawalpindi division as a result of closer supervision. It is noticeable that the figures are only unreasonably high in small towns, such as Dera Nanak 20 per cent., Dharmkot 25 per cent., and Zira 21 per cent.

10. Several minor municipalities continue to disregard the necessity of granting refunds. In Dharmkot, already alluded to above, none have been given, it being explained that funds do not permit. As the Commissioner has pointed out, however, the balance at the credit of the committee is in excess of the prescribed minimum and the cost of collection unduly high. His Honour is glad that an enquiry is being made into this case. Jagadhri has also gone through the year without granting any refunds, the reason in this case being that, by mutual agreement between the committee and the local traders, no one applies for a refund. The percentages of refunds varied considerably through the province. In Khanna, in the Jullundur division, it is as low as 2·8 per cent. on the gross receipts, while at Ballabgarh the percentage was 46·3. Other towns, where the percentage was unduly high, are Palwal 41, Fazilka 35·7, Ambala and Bhiwani 34, Hissar 29, Ferozepore and Jhirka 26, and Phillaur 25·9. As the Commissioner of Delhi remarks, these figures indicate that either through trade is being taxed or the arrangements for granting refunds are lax and require better supervision. His Honour hopes that this matter will receive the attention of Commissioners.

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

11. The aggregate income of the municipalities in the province rose from Rs. 63,93,000 in 1910-11 to Rs. 71,41,000 in 1911-12. The increase was due partly to greater octroi collections consequent on the better supervision of the collecting staff and working of the Municipal Account Code and partly to better receipts under the head "Rents of lands, houses, &c.," in Delhi and Lahore, in the former owing particularly to the receipts from stands erected to view the State Entry of Their Imperial Majesties. Increased Government grants also contributed to the rise in receipts. Special grants were given during the year to Delhi for the reclamation of Bela and the improvement of the sanitary condition of the city, to the Amritsar municipality for the filling up of dhabs which are the source of malaria in the town and suburbs, and to the Lahore municipality towards the additional supply of wells. Municipalities have also been relieved of police charges aggregating about Rs. 5,19,000, or, including the amount of Rs. 67,767 already remitted four years ago to the Lahore municipality, about Rs. 5,87,000. Every committee, unless relieved of this obligation by Government, is required by the Municipal Act to maintain a sufficient police establishment for police requirements within municipal limits. As, however, it has been found necessary for the sake of efficiency to keep these establishments under the orders of the Police Department and the municipalities have practically no control over them, Government has decided to assume all liability for the charges from the 1st April 1911. Municipal committees will be expected to devote the funds thus set free to the improvement of sanitation, education and other services which are under the more direct control of those bodies.

The expenditure has risen from Rs. 63,85,000 in 1910-11 to Rs. 69,09,000 in 1911-12. The increase mainly occurs under the heads "Miscellaneous and Water-supply." The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe a decrease of over Rs. 60,000 in expenditure under "Schools and Colleges," although the number of scholars is understood to have risen from 15,646 to 16,858. Now that they have been relieved of police charges, municipalities can no longer plead poverty as an excuse for restricting expenditure on education, and His Honour hopes that committees in the Punjab will realize their duties in this respect and respond to the movement for the extension of education which is making such progress in other parts of India.

Closing balances also show an improvement of over 2 lakhs. The figures in 1910-11 stood at Rs. 16,24,000 and in 1911-12 at Rs. 18,57,000. All municipalities and notified areas close with good balances except the following, which failed to maintain the prescribed minimum:—

Rahon (Jullundur division) with an income of Rs. 11,759 closed with a balance of Rs. 538. This municipality has failed to keep the minimum balance for three consecutive years, and as, notwithstanding the remarks in the past reviews, no improvement has been observed, it might well be considered whether in the absence of any other successful measures to augment the income or exercise economy in expenditure, the town could not usefully be reduced to the status of a notified area.

The other two municipalities which failed in this respect are Batala and Rawalpindi. The notified areas of Alawalpur, Kalanaur, Sujampur, Sri-govindpur, Hafizabad and Chakwal also were unable to keep the required minimum. Three of these have since ceased to be notified areas.

Several municipalities have unduly large balances, in which connection the Commissioner of Jullundur remarks that "the maintenance of balances largely in excess of the requisite minimum is certainly not sound finance and points either to deficient expenditure on objects of public benefit or to excessive taxation." The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that this criticism is generally applicable except in cases where, as in several of the municipal towns in the Delhi division, the balances have been accumulated for the purpose of financing specific schemes of improvement.

On the whole, the accounts of the municipalities and notified areas show gradual improvement, the credit of which is mainly due to the careful audit of the Local Fund Auditors, whose services His Honour is pleased to acknowledge. Annual returns received through the Deputy Commissioners continue to be submitted in a careless way, and His Honour would again impress on Deputy Commissioners the necessity of their preparation in accordance with instructions and of adequate check in the district office.

12. No new loans were taken by the municipalities during the year. After the close of the year, however, the Delhi municipality took a loan of Rs. 5½ lakhs for extension of water-works.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

13. The year was generally a healthy one, but plague and small-pox were prevalent, the former being the cause of high mortality in the towns of the Delhi division in particular.

Amritsar suffered from a number of fires, and Rs. 15,000 worth of damage was caused by a serious fire at Bhiwani.

14. Various improvements are in progress in Lahore and Amritsar as a result of the energy of the Health Officers. Lahore is engaged in sinking 11 additional supply wells, and has a large sewage scheme under consideration. Streets are being widened, and proposals for providing an up-to-date and properly equipped fire brigade and for the construction of a tuberculin dispensary also occupy the committee's attention. In Amritsar the experiments in the sinking of tube-wells are reported to have been highly satisfactory; and the scheme for the reclamation of dhabs is progressing successfully. In spite of the water-logging around the town it is reported that the present water-supply is failing and is already unable to meet the demand. The deficiency can, however, easily be made good by tube-wells—as it is found that one of these sunk in one of the old wells more than quadruples the supply. A detailed scheme of up-to-date underground drainage of an area of 61 acres is being prepared, the existing drainage system, owing to the impossibility of securing a proper fall, being most unsatisfactory.

In Delhi the most important work was the extension of the water-works, and the efficient way in which this work was carried out under the supervision of Mr. Aikman the Sanitary Engineer, may be judged by the excellent and sufficient supply provided, during the Darbar period, to the enormous extra population. Improved water-supply schemes are being worked out for Sialkot, Khushab and other towns, and the tube-wells will it is hoped, greatly reduce the cost of these and ensure perfectly pure water.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions and Deputy Commissioners of districts in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Education Department. Also that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of municipal committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab.

The Annual Municipal Administration Reports and Returns for the year 1912-13.

PART I.

REMARKS.—The formation of the Delhi Province on October 1st, 1912, has removed from the Punjab the 1st class municipality of Delhi and the notified areas of Mahrauli and Najafgarh. A further diminution in the number of municipalities was caused by the reduction of Patti and Jandiala in the Lahore and Amritsar districts respectively to the status of notified areas. In pursuance of the policy of withdrawing municipal administration from some of the smaller towns, nine notified areas were abolished in the Rohtak district, five in Gurdaspur and one each in Sialkot and Ludhiana. In the Attock district the Civil Station of Campbellpur was included within the limits of the notified area, and the town of Talagang was constituted a notified area. In Gujrat the question of dealing with the Civil Station and Railway Station Bazaar is under consideration.

2. The municipal elections seem to be gradually arousing a little more interest. In Gujrat and the minor municipalities of that district the elections were briskly contested. In Gujrat 61 per cent. of the voters came to the poll, and in the minor municipalities 73·4, 68·7 and 68·6 per cent. voted. In Rohtak, however, public interest appears to be taking an undesirable form. The Deputy Commissioner writes:—"In Rohtak there were considerable complaints of bribery, and there seems to be no doubt that votes were bought and sold. It seems, however, impossible to get satisfactory proof sufficient to justify interference, and unless some improvement is shown it may become necessary to move Government to abolish elections for a period of years." The Commissioner, however, considers that if the rules published with Punjab Government notification No. 366, dated 19th May 1913, are enforced wherever possible, it will not be necessary to deprive the whole town of the right of election. These rules provide for annulling the election of candidates found guilty of corrupt practices or intimidation, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that they will tend to purify the conduct of municipal elections.

The elective system has been introduced in Zira and Moga in the Ferozepore district, and the question of restoring the right of election, which was taken from the municipalities of Hissar and Bhiwani some years ago owing to abuse of the privilege, was raised in the Provincial Legislative Council, and is at present under consideration. Proposals have also been formulated for introducing an elected element in the municipal committee of Lyallpur.

3. From other districts it is reported, as has been noticed in the reviews of previous years, that the contest is generally fought out behind the scenes before the polling stage is reached. The Commissioner of Lahore takes this view, stating that in several cases the election really seems to have been decided before the day of polling, rival candidates resigning after preliminary arbitration or compromise. The Deputy Commissioner of Gujranwala states that for weeks before the elections in his district great enthusiasm and excitement prevailed, though only 2 out of 14 vacancies reached the stage of an actual polling contest. He is also, however, of the opinion that some of the applications for vacant seats are made not from a serious desire to become a Municipal Commissioner, but for the sake of the distinction which appears to attach even to an unsuccessful candidate for a seat on the municipal committee. Another case of compromise before polling is reported from Rohtak, where it is stated that, "in one contested case the candidate who appeared to be losing agreed to withdraw on receipt of a considerable sum from his opponent towards defraying his expenditure. The opponent paid and was duly declared elected. He then sought"—presumably not in the law courts—"to recover some of the sum spent on votes on the ground that the votes had not actually been given. This led to a fracas and the member was convicted and fined for assault."

From the above instances it appears that the growth of interest in representative institutions is still slow throughout much of the province, but energy even in a wrong direction is perhaps a better sign than apathy.

4. On the whole the number of meetings held during the year has been satisfactory. In Ferozepore there were 30 meetings of which 11 were special, but 8 meetings were adjourned for want of a quorum. Jagadhri and Ballabgarh are reported to have fallen short of the requisite number of meetings, and in the latter case the frequent transfers of Tahsildars is given as the reason. Mithankot and Rajanpur in Dera Ghazi Khan held 11 and 9 meetings only, and Kamalia in Montgomery and Gojra in Lyallpur held only 10 meetings. The notified area of Ram Das in the Amritsar district seems determined to maintain its unenviable notoriety of the past three years, and again held only two meetings during the year. The explanation is given as before that this is due to the President being an absentee official, but nothing is said as to any steps being taken to remedy this defect. With certain exceptions the attendance of members is reported to be good. In Gojra seven meetings had to be adjourned for want of a quorum, and the explanation is said to be that in this colony town members are often absent at their homes in their old districts. In Chiniot 4 meetings were adjourned for lack of a quorum, but better results are expected in future as the worst offenders in this respect are reported to be no longer members of the committee. In Lahore the average attendance of members was 59 per cent. which is a satisfactory figure for a municipality of this size, and in Eminabad in the Gujranwala district every member attended every meeting. In Murree the complaint is still made that the official members do not devote much time to municipal affairs, but the attendance of the other nominated members was very fair.

5. The working of committees is reported to be on the whole satisfactory. The Commissioner of Rawalpindi remarks that the strictures passed last year on the working of the Murree municipality have apparently borne good fruit and serious efforts appear to have been made to remedy the defects commented on. The working of the Rawalpindi committee is reported to have shown a marked improvement, and members devoted a great deal more of their time to municipal business. In Multan, however, the Commissioner notes that too much importance appears to be attached to sectarian differences, and the Commissioner of Lahore remarks that in Batala, Dinanagar and Ramnagar factions prevented smooth working. The Commissioner of Multan observes that the audit notes on the municipal accounts indicate that there is considerable laxity in the administration of municipal affairs and not sufficiently strict observance of the rules and instructions laid down for the guidance of municipal committees. The last audit note of Multan exhibited a state of affairs that was far from satisfactory, and in some cases, such as Rajanpur and Jampur, it is clear that a serious effort is necessary to secure satisfactory administration.

Sub-committees continue to do good work and the Commissioner of Rawalpindi especially commends the working of the Murree sub-committees. In Jullundur, however, it is stated that the number of sub-committee meetings is always below the required number.

6. No important cases arose in which the proceedings of committees were over-ruled, but in Sonapat the municipal committee increased the pay of two local teachers, against the strong protests of the Divisional Inspector of Schools, and the matter was referred to the Commissioner, who under section 42 of the Municipal Act (III of 1911) required the committee to reduce the pay of the teachers concerned. The Deputy Commissioner of Amritsar over-ruled the proposal of the Majitha notified area committee to impose a tax under a section which had not been extended to the notified area in question. The Commissioner, however, records his opinion that the proposal should have been forwarded, as it was open to the committee to ask Government to impose the tax under section 242 of the Act. Certain resolutions of the Miani municipal committee were suspended by the Deputy Commissioner, and in Gujrat the intervention of the Deputy Commissioner was in some cases necessary to moderate personalities, and some resolutions had to be referred back to the committee for reconsideration and amendment.

7. No new rules or bye-laws of a specially important nature have been introduced into any municipalities during the year under report. In Murree bye-laws have been framed dealing with the exercising of ponies and registration of dogs, and in Kunjah and Dinga bye-laws were made to regulate the sale of milk and butter. Gujranwala has followed the lead given by various committees during the previous year in demanding, under a proviso to section 74 of the Municipal Account Code, proof of the previous payment of octroi when a refund is claimed on certain specified articles of light weight and high value liable to be imported by post. The Lahore municipality has framed rules to allow Hackney carriages to be used, under the directions of a medical practitioner, for conveying persons suffering from various infectious diseases. The Lyallpur committee framed bye-laws on the subject of a wheel tax which has received the sanction of Government.

PART II.—TAXATION.

8. Octroi continues to be the chief source of municipal revenue. In Fazilka and Muktsar in the Ferozepore district steps are being taken to replace octroi by a terminal tax, and a similar proposal is under consideration in Sharakpur in the Gujranwala district. In Murree the dog tax was revised, and the water-rate raised. In Dinga octroi was imposed on vegetable oils. The municipalities of the Gujrat district have exempted milk from the imposition of octroi. In 4 notified areas in the Attock district a tax based on income was introduced in place of the taxation by fixed grades. Some other notified areas have also been brought under a system of taxation on the basis of income, and the working of this system will be watched with interest. The municipal committee of Gojra and the committees of the notified areas of Toba Tek Singh, Jaranwala and Chak Jhumra (formerly known as Chiniot Road) have applied for the imposition of a toll on loaded carts and camels entering the towns, to meet a portion of the heavy recurring expenditure on the maintenance of roads.

In Batala the new frontage tax, referred to in last year's review has not worked at all smoothly. The tax has turned out to be exceedingly unpopular owing, it is said, to its unequal incidence. The opposition was encouraged by certain members of the committee whose interests were affected by the tax. Eventually the rates were arbitrarily reduced by a resolution of the committee, but even so there was little diminution in the opposition and only a small proportion of the tax due was collected. The whole case is still under consideration.

9. The investigation into the mismanagement of the octroi administration in the Sialkot municipality came to an end during the year. Charges of embezzlement were brought home to two octroi muharrirs. The Secretary has resigned and various other officials have resigned or have been dismissed, and matters are now reported to be in good order. From all divisions it is reported that the working of octroi is generally satisfactory. At Khudian the inclusion of agricultural land in octroi limits hampered the proper administration of the tax. Khudian has now been reduced to the status of a notified area.

The income from octroi has risen almost everywhere. In Lahore and Amritsar the rise is chiefly noticeable under articles of food and drink. In Multan there has been an increase in collections owing to the introduction of a new schedule. The octroi income in Sialkot has risen 10 per cent. owing to the better supervision recently introduced. In Kasur the considerable increase in receipts is attributed to increased imports due to a good harvest. In Gurdaspur and Muzaffargarh the receipts have increased by 19 per cent. in each place owing to increased efficiency in the administration, and in Gujranwala the introduction of new schedules has resulted in the large increase of 56 per cent. Shahpur shows an increase of Rs. 13,840 due to revised schedules, and there is a large increase also in Rawalpindi, which is attributed to the fact that grain imports increased very largely in the latter part of the year owing to fears of famine. In Dinga the income from octroi has fallen owing to traders moving their shops to places outside the municipal limits and near the Railway Station. The Commissioner states that the trade of this town is declining, and a further diminution in income is to be feared. The matter is engaging the attention of the Deputy Commissioner.

Notified area receipts have remained fairly steady, but in Padhana receipts from taxes have fallen from Rs. 1,191 to Rs. 23. This is not explained in the district report and the Commissioner is having enquiries made.

The cost of collection of the tax remains about the same. As is to be expected the cost is lowest in the larger municipalities where there is a large trade, and heaviest in the smaller towns where the income is small and a larger proportional scale of establishment has to be maintained than in the larger towns. In Lahore the cost of collection rose slightly from 4·07 to 4·24 per cent. In Amritsar it has fallen from Rs. 6-6-0 to Rs. 5-11-2 per cent. In the minor municipalities of the Lahore district it has risen from Rs. 14-14-0 to Rs. 15-6-0. In Gujranwala it is as low as Rs. 4-11-7, and in the rest of the Lahore division it is about 15 per cent., though in Dera Nanak and Pathankot it is as high as 22 per cent. In the Ambala division the cost of collection exceeds 15 per cent. in Rohtak only, where it is 16·6 per cent., and in the Rawalpindi division it exceeds 15 per cent. in the municipalities of the Gujrat district and three others in Mianwali and Attock. In the Multan division the cost of collection is reported to have fallen slightly throughout.

10. Refunds of octroi vary considerably throughout the province. In Lahore there has been a slight decrease and in Amritsar a slight increase. Of the larger towns Sialkot shows the highest figure with 43 per cent. This high rate is attributed to the growth of Sialkot as an exporting centre. The Deputy Commissioner is being asked to examine receipts and refunds under each commodity to see whether any revision of the schedule is likely to have a beneficial result. In the smaller towns high figures are shown by Ballabgarh 63 per cent., Palwal 46 per cent., Kasur 44 per cent., Hissar 36 per cent. and Fazilka 35·8 per cent. In Ballabgarh it is stated that there is cultivated land inside octroi limits, and refunds are wrongly claimed for grain exported which has been grown inside the octroi limits and not imported. The question of revision of the octroi limits here is reported to be under consideration. In Palwal gram and barley have been exempted from octroi, and it is hoped the figures will drop. Low figures are shown in Kartarpur and Dharmkot 5 per cent. and Nurmahal 7 per cent. The figure was as low as 1·08 per cent. in the municipality of Khanna, which has been reduced to the status of a notified area since the close of the year under review. In Sharakpur no refunds at all were given, and the committee has been addressed on the subject.

Grave embezzlements were discovered in Rawalpindi indicating defects of system which it is hoped have now been removed.

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

11. In order to make comparisons between the figures of income and expenditure for the year under review and those of 1911-12 it has been necessary to omit the figures for the Delhi municipality, which were included in the figures for 1911-12, as the municipality is no longer in the province.

The total income of the municipalities in the province amounted during the year to Rs. 66,02,000, an increase of Rs. 8,17,000 over the figures for the previous year after excluding Delhi. The increase is chiefly due to larger octroi collections and to grants from Government. The total income from octroi has risen from Rs. 34,33,000 to Rs. 36,89,000. This increase of over 2½ lakhs is due partly to the revision of octroi schedules in Gujranwala, Multan, Jhelum, Raekot and Pindigheb, partly to increased imports, and partly to enforcement of stricter supervision. A large rise from Rs. 4,24,097 to Rs. 8,92,824 under the head "Grants and Contributions" is due to substantial grants from Government for various purposes. The chief grants were one of Rs. 2,20,000 to Amritsar for the city sewage scheme, another grant to Amritsar of Rs. 12,000 for water supply, and a grant to Ambala of Rs. 30,000 for water-works. Sialkot received a grant of one lakh for water supply, and for drainage purposes Rawalpindi received a lakh and a half and Chiniot Rs. 39,000.

The expenditure has naturally risen with the increased income, especially in the case of the grants given for specific purposes. The total expenditure has risen from Rs. 53,97,000 to Rs. 59,78,000, an increase of Rs. 5,81,000. The main heads under which increases are found are "water-supply" and "drainage" which have increased by Rs. 72,000 and Rs. 1,83,000, respectively, owing to the utilization of the large Government grants already referred to. "Buildings and Roads" show an increase of 1½ lakhs, "Hospitals and Dispensaries" Rs. 56,000, "Arboriculture" Rs. 33,000, and under "Public Institution" His Honour is pleased to note an advance of nearly one lakh, which more than compensates for the decrease of Rs. 60,000 commented on in last year's review.

12. Closing balances still show a tendency on the whole to be unduly large. Only two municipalities failed to keep to the prescribed minimum balance of 10 per cent., namely, Nur Mahal with an income of Rs. 7,991 and a closing balance of Rs. 634, and Gurdaspur with an income of Rs. 23,970 and a closing balance of Rs. 1,825. The municipality of Rahon, which has previously failed for three years to maintain the minimum balance, has now put its finances on a satisfactory footing. The notified areas which failed in this respect are Nawashahr, Gujar Khan, Srigovindpur, Sujampur and Chakwal, the last three named having been defaulters last year also.

On the other hand there are a large number of committees which maintain unduly large balances, chief among such being Muktsar, Wazirabad, Isa Khel and Pakpattan among municipalities, and Ladwa, Nurpur, Moga, Abohar, Bhuchhcho, Pattoki, Ram Das, Sillanwali and Phullarwan among notified areas. In this connection the Commissioner of the Lahore division remarks that as a rule the municipal balances are unusually high, seldom below 25 per cent. of income, especially in the minor municipalities of Lahore and Gujranwala districts. The Lieutenant-Governor had occasion to notice this tendency last year also and, except in cases where money is being saved up for some specific object, he would be glad if Commissioners would look into all cases where committees persistently maintain a balance of over 20 per cent. of income, with a view to the accumulated balances being expended on some scheme of public utility or to the reduction of taxation to a figure that will provide sufficient funds for municipal administration without leaving an unduly large surplus each year. His Honour regrets that, in spite of the direction in last year's review, the preparation of the municipal returns is still very carelessly carried out in district offices, and the statements have to be constantly returned for corrections and verifications. A better supervision over the preparation of these returns in the district offices will obviate much unnecessary correspondence.

13. There were no loans of any importance during the year. The Hazro municipal committee received a small loan of Rs. 1,744 from Government.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

14. The general health throughout the municipal towns of the Province is again reported as good, except that the Deputy Commissioner of Jullundur reports that plague and small-pox have been prevalent in the towns and district. The town of Jhelum suffered from a severe outbreak of plague and nearly two-thirds of the population fled. Sialkot also suffered severely from plague, and rat extermination was attempted, but the people were apathetic and gave no assistance.

From Ambala, however, it is reported that only a very few cases of small-pox or plague occurred, and the infection was prevented from spreading, as the city authorities showed themselves alive to the need for speedy measures to check the spread of disease.

Amritsar and Bhiwani mentioned last year have again been unfortunate in the matter of fires. Damage to the extent of over Rs. 18,000 was done in Amritsar, and in Bhiwani the Municipal High School took fire and damage to the extent of Rs. 10,000 was done. It is believed that the school was deliberately fired, and some boys were arrested on a charge of arson which was not, however, judicially established. It appears that the discipline of the school was very bad and there was friction between the boys and the masters. In the Murree Bazar a fire occurred resulting in the loss of two lives.

15. Sanitary measures are receiving their due share of attention. In Lahore and Sialkot extensive sewage schemes are in progress, and Multan is about to undertake projects for water-supply and for sewage.

16. The Commissioner of Rawalpindi has called attention to a new problem of municipal administration that is likely to arise in consequence of the marked growth among the well-to-do of the desire for living in the more spacious suburban areas outside the old limits of the towns. This tendency brings the municipal committees of towns, such as Rawalpindi, Jhelum and Gujrat, face to face with the problems of town-planning. In a country of small holdings, such as the Punjab for the most part is, the agricultural land available for the extension of towns is held by a considerable number of peasant proprietors, who are not in the least likely to agree among themselves as to an ordered plan of streets, lanes and open spaces. In such conditions it is a difficult matter for a municipal committee to lay down and insist upon the observance of suitable schemes. For such schemes would absorb, in streets and open places unprofitable to the individual owner, an undue proportion of the lands of some while adding very largely to the value of the lands of others, which did not happen to be required for these purposes. One possible remedy would be the introduction of a Town-Planning Act which would provide, on the plan recently suggested by the Government of India and recommended by the Madras Sanitary Conference, for the pooling and redistribution of holdings, and the charging of a "betterment" rate on the lands which gained in value by the process. The Commissioner, however, does not consider that the circumstances of the Punjab towns at present call for a measure of such elaboration, but he makes the useful suggestion that municipal committees should buy up the areas of suburban land where extensions are impending, should lay out suitable plans of streets and open spaces, and, dividing the remaining area into building plots, should sell them at prices which will cover the cost of the whole operation including interest on the original outlay. The Commissioner considers that to carry out schemes of this nature the municipal committees would need to have recourse to loans from Government, but it is possible that in some cases the swollen balances of municipal committees referred to above might be put to such uses. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that this problem is one that will have to be considered by the larger towns, including Lahore, and schemes such as that proposed by the Commissioner, Rawalpindi, may well be considered.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of divisions and Deputy Commissioners of districts in the Punjab, and the Secretary to Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Education Department.

Also, that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of municipal committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab.

*Rs. 130 were added on account of house rent of police barracks refunded to the Municipal Committee and adjusted in the Accountant-General's Office by book transfer credit to the Jhajjar Municipality in the accounts for the month of March 1912.

†The correct balance last year should have been Rs. 18,434, but the Municipality omitted to include an item of Rs. 47 on account of an uncashed cheque. ‡The correct balance on 31st March 1912 was Rs. 3,622 including Rs. 226 on account of income received too late for credit into Treasury, which the Committee failed show to in the accounts.

$Rs. 91 in the opening balance of Karnal and Rs. 24 in that of Kaithal were added under the instructions of the Accountant-General, Punjab, on account of adjustments made by book transfer.

* Difference between this figure and the closing balance in the report for the year 1911-12 is due mainly to the exclusion of the Dehli Municipality from this Province and the conversion of Pati (Lahore) Jandiala (Amritsar) and Dera Ghazi Khan Municipalities into notified Areas and the constitution of Gojra (Lyallpur) into a Municipal Committee and partly to the adjustments made by the Accountant-General in the balances of Jhajjar, Ballabgarh, Faridabad, Karnal, Kaithal Jullundur, Jagraon, Sialkot, Gujrat and Hazro Municipalities by book transfer subsequent to the publication of the report for the year 1911-12.

Boards and Committees.

Committees.

SIR,

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, the Lieutenant-Governor's review of the accounts and administration of municipalities in the Punjab for the year 1913-14.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab.

Proceedings of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab in the Boards and Committees (Committees) Department, No. 710, dated 1st December 1914.

READ—

The Annual Municipal Administration Reports and Returns for the year 1913-14.

PART I.

REMARKS.—During the year under review new notified areas were established at Tandlianwala (Lyallpur), Lala Musa (Gujrat), and Nankana Sahib (Gujranwala), all three of which are places with grain markets and a growing trade. Two unimportant municipalities, namely, Khanna and Khudian in the districts of Ludhiana and Lahore, respectively, were reduced to the status of notified areas. On the transfer of the head-quarters of the Shahpur District to Sargodha this town has been constituted a municipality, and the status of the new town of Dera Ghazi Khan has also been raised to that of a municipality. These changes left the number of municipalities in the Province at 104 as before.

2. Though municipal elections as a whole seem to be arousing a little more interest every year and to produce keener contests, it is only in a few of the larger municipalities that any marked enthusiasm is shown. Elsewhere, except where sectarian feeling runs high, which is unfortunately not a rare occurrence, the public is usually apathetic. Several Deputy Commissioners voice the old complaint that the better class of men, whose services on the committee might be of great value, though willing and anxious to be appointed members by nomination, are reluctant to take the field in an electoral contest. The proportion of vacancies contested was highest in the Rawalpindi Division where 14 out of 23 seats were contested. In the Multan Division there was only one contest for 34 vacancies. In that election, however, the proportion of the voting strength was high, amounting to 86·61 per cent. The absence of contests in this division is attributed to some extent to the fact that candidates who anticipate defeat frequently retire before the elections actually take place. In the Ambala Division the election produced 31 contests for 57 seats, and two seats were left unfilled. Great interest was shown in the elections of the Ambala municipality where as many as 95·51 per cent. of the voters came to the poll.

In the Jullundur Division only 4 contests occurred for 23 vacancies, whilst in the Lahore Division 19 out of 48 seats were contested. The Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak, reports that "interest in the elections is only shown where religious or sectarian feeling is aroused. Otherwise votes are given to the highest bidder who looks to recoup himself by jobbery and favouritism when he gets into the committee. Men of social standing whose character and position would render their services of inestimable value are thus ousted by demagogues and wealthy plebeians." For many years the Deputy Commissioners of this district have complained of the prevalence of malpractices at the elections, and if these are well founded, action should be taken under the rules issued by Government during the year for dealing with such cases. The elective system has been introduced in Lyallpur, and has also been restored in the Hissar municipality.

On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to be pessimistic as to the progress of the elective system. Abuses are bound to occur, as they do in most countries possessing democratic institutions. His Honour, while sympathising with the men of the old aristocratic school who at present stand disdainfully aloof, must emphasise the fact that the system has come to stay, and that all citizens who have the welfare of the community at heart should accept it and endeavour to eradicate abuses gradually. There are indeed signs that a higher sense of civic duty is being developed. There is a tendency for better men to come forward as candidates, and it may be hoped that in course of time the best will not think it beneath them to seek the suffrages of their fellow-citizens.

3. Meetings were held with satisfactory regularity by all the larger committees. The Simla committee convened as many as 55 and was closely followed by Ambala with 54. The number of meetings held by the smaller municipalities and notified areas has also been sufficient in most cases, but the municipalities of Buriya, Ballabgarh, Sonapat, Kamalia, Dinanagar and Eminabad, and the notified area committees of Padhana and Ram Das, failed to reach the prescribed standard. The notified area committee of Ram Das has been conspicuous in this respect for four years, the reason being that it is in an out-of-the-way part of the district and has an official president who is rarely able to visit the town. The Commissioner reports that any other arrangement would be difficult, but the present state of affairs is clearly unsatisfactory, and the substitution of a local non-official for the present official president might well be tried. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to receive a special report on the case.

The attendance of members has been good as a whole, but there are some notable exceptions. In Chiniot the percentage of members attending only reached 28, whilst in Jhang-cum-Maghiana the percentage was 47.2. In all other towns the attendance reached 50 per cent. There is room for improvement, however, in Murree, Lyallpur and Ferozepore.

4. The working of committees is reported to be generally satisfactory except where religious and racial jealousies are prominent. Multan has maintained its unenviable notoriety in this respect, and though sectarian differences are reported to be less prominent than before, they still continue to attract too much attention. The fact that one party supports a measure is said to be sufficient to arouse the opposition of the other party quite apart from the merits of the case, and in these circumstances it is not surprising that the administration of municipal affairs is reported as unsatisfactory. It is much to be regretted that in a town of this importance the Commissioner is unable to hold out any hope that municipal affairs will for some time to come be dealt with except as party matters. The committee merely reflects the general state of feeling in the town, and no real remedy can be found until the leaders of the rival communities learn to sink their differences for the common good and develop a broader public spirit.

The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that there is a considerable improvement in the working of the Murree committee.

Sub-committees continue to do useful work in most municipalities, and in Lyallpur a large part of the committee's business is conducted almost entirely through this agency. In Jhelum and Gujrat, however, sub-committees are reported to be failures. The question of substituting non-official for official office-bearers has been examined during the year, and it has been found possible to appoint non-official presidents to a considerable number of committees. His Honour's acknowledgments are due to various gentlemen to whose energy and ability as presidents or vice-presidents the successful administration of municipalities is attributed. Conspicuous among these are Khan Bahadur Sayad Mehdi Shah of Gojra, Rai Bahadur Joti Parshad and Sardar Lachman Singh of Jagadhri and Buriya, Mr. John Stewart in Kalka, Lala Jawahar Lal in Hissar, and Rai Sahib Lala Ram Gopal in Sirsa.

5. It was not found necessary to overrule the resolutions of any committee in any very important matter. The Deputy Commissioner, Gujrat, however, overruled one resolution each of the Gujrat and Jalalpur Jattan committees, whilst in Mianwali and Ballabgarh resolutions had to be returned to the committees for reconsideration. The Commissioner, Multan, reports that one resolution of the Montgomery committee was suspended, and that he was compelled on several occasions to draw the attention of the various committees to considerations that had been overlooked in passing resolutions. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees that it is very necessary that Deputy Commissioners should carefully scrutinise the proceedings of committees and discuss freely with them any doubtful matters, and that scrutiny by Commissioners is also desirable.

6. There has been moderate activity among committees in framing bye-laws. The municipalities of Karnal and Murree have passed bye-laws for the regulation of stables and cow-houses. In Karnal and Gurdaspur bye-laws controlling the sale of meat came into force, whilst the committees of Panipat, Dinga, Gujrat, Jalalpur Jattan, Ferozepore and Pathankot have passed bye-laws to regulate the sale of milk and butter. It is gratifying to observe that municipal committees are realising their responsibilities with regard to control over the sale of articles of food, but the reports are silent as to the effect of the bye-laws passed. Small municipal committees are apt to consider that they have done all that is required when they have passed bye-laws and to take no steps to ensure their being enforced. His Honour would be glad therefore to find some mention in the reports of the actual working of the bye-laws. Bye-laws for the licensing of carts and hand carts have been passed by the Bhiwani, Kartarpur, Ferozepore, Amritsar, Pathankot and Gujranwala committees, whilst in Shujabad and Zira bye-laws have been framed to control carriages plying for hire.

PART II.—TAXATION.

7. Octroi continues to be the most popular form of taxation and is still the chief source of municipal income in the Province. Certain committees, however, are now considering the expediency of substituting a terminal tax for octroi. The disadvantages of octroi are many and are generally recognized, but it has hitherto maintained its popularity, because, in spite of the inconveniences incidental to it and the many opportunities it gives for fraud and evasion, it is an indirect tax and the majority of the consumers do not realize that they are paying it. The system of terminal taxation has the same advantage, and it also avoids many of the disadvantages of octroi. It is possible that it will be found suitable for many towns in the Punjab with a large through trade. No terminal tax was actually imposed during the year under review, but such a tax has recently been sanctioned in Sargodha. Proposals for the imposition of terminal taxes have also been received from Bhiwani, Muktsar and Fazilka, and these are still under consideration. The committees of the Lyallpur and Gujranwala Districts are also contemplating the institution of terminal taxation, as are the committees of Sialkot, Pasrur and Kasur. In the latter town refunds amounted this year to no less than 68 per cent. of the gross receipts, and the abolition or reform of a system of taxation which involves such heavy refunds is certainly called for. The most important reductions in taxation are the abolition of the conservancy tax at Simla and the water tax at Lahore. The former has always proved extremely difficult and expensive to collect, and was also very unpopular.

Direct taxes, such as a house tax and profession tax, are as unpopular as ever. An endeavour has been made in the Sialkot District to place the house taxes levied in notified areas on a more satisfactory footing by more elaborate and careful assessment, and to reduce the amount of the taxes by the levying of weighing fees. No success, however, has been obtained, as the elaboration of the assessment has led only to confusion and the collection of weighing fees to abuses. There can be no doubt that the taxes which are now imposed in notified areas are far from satisfactory. The only form of direct taxation which is generally acceptable to small urban communities is an indefinite impost varying with the means or circumstances of each tax-payer which is commonly called a haisiyat tax. This, however, has been held to be illegal, and its place has been taken by the present taxes on professions or incomes which are unpopular because of their inelasticity. The Lieutenant-Governor has had the whole subject of the taxation of small towns under careful consideration, and it has been suggested that the haisiyat tax should be legalised by an enactment on the lines of the United Provinces Small Towns Act. Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners are now being asked for their opinions on this proposal.

8. The working of octroi is reported to be satisfactory generally. A muharrir of the Palwal municipality, however, was prosecuted and convicted for fraud, and it was also found necessary to remove from his office the Vice-President of the committee in connection with the case. The financial crisis, which ruined so many banks, does not appear to have had as great an effect on the octroi receipts as might have been expected. The Commissioner, Lahore, reports that neither the very large nor the very small towns have been affected. On the other hand, the falling off in receipts in Rawalpindi and Multan is attributed largely to bank failures, and decreases in Gujranwala and Wazirabad are also said to be due to the same cause. In Lahore the net increase from octroi was Rs 61,700, whilst Amritsar shows a rise of Rs. 44,800. Receipts from octroi in the Ambala Division have decreased by Rs. 40,500 as a result of bad harvests and insufficient winter rains.

An increase in the cost of collection is reported from the Ambala, Lahore and Rawalpindi Divisions. In the Hissar District the average cost amounts only to 8·9 per cent. As a rule the cost varies between 10 and 20 per cent.; the latter figure, however, is exceeded this year by the municipalities of Tanda, Dharmkot and Zira. The two last-named were mentioned in this respect in last year's review, and measures for the reduction of the cost appear to be necessary.

9. Refunds are reported to be given freely, except in a few small municipalities, which are still inclined to disregard the rules on the subject. The percentage of refunds on gross collections continues to be very low in several towns in the Jullundur Division. In Lahore it has risen from 14·3 per cent. to 19·9 per cent, whilst in Amritsar there has been a drop from 26·7 per cent. to 23·2 per cent.

The refund figures are high in Sialkot, where 32·6 per cent of the gross receipts was refunded, and especially so in Kasur, where, as already observed, refunds represented 68 per cent. of the gross receipts. Of the municipalities in the Ambala Division, Bhiwani and Hissar show the highest rate of refunds, viz., 39 per cent. and 33 per cent., respectively. The former town is the chief commercial centre of the district, and the exports are consequently very heavy, but the Deputy Commissioner considers the refunds in Hissar to be excessive and due to lack of proper supervision.

PART III.—ACCOUNTS.

10. The aggregate income of municipalities rose from Rs. 66,02,000 to Rs. 76,46,000, the increase being mainly due to larger contributions from Government. A number of municipal committees revised their octroi schedules during the year, and a substantial rise might therefore have been expected in the income from this source. The falling-off in receipts, however, in the Ambala, Rawalpindi and Multan Divisions has almost counterbalanced the enhanced receipts in the other two divisions, and the total income from octroi has only risen by Rs. 62,000. Government contributions increased by over 6 lakhs, and amounted to Rs. 13,84,000. The most important grant was one of 9 lakhs, to the Lahore municipality for its sewage scheme.

Expenditure has not quite kept pace with the receipts, but has risen by Rs. 4,93,000. The chief increase is under the head Public Works, amounting to Rs. 3,06,000, but "water-supply" and "public instruction" are responsible for Rs. 2,29,000 and Rs. 58,000, respectively. On the other hand, expenditure on drainage has fallen by Rs. 1,77,000. As much of this expenditure is of the nature of capital outlay, it is bound to vary from year to year, and too much significance should not be attached to annual fluctuations.

11. No municipality failed to keep to the prescribed minimum balance: several notified areas, however, allowed their balances to fall below it. The notified area of Alawalpur, with an income of Rs. 809, closed the year with a balance of Rs. 10 only, whilst Shadiwal had a balance of only Rs. 5. The Kalka notified area closed with a deficit of Rs. 6,336-5-0 due to a book debit having been erroneously raised against the committee on account of some abandoned postal buildings which were transferred to that body for an Anglo-Vernacular Middle School. It was not intended that the notified area should be charged with the value of these buildings, and the transaction has since been cancelled and sanction given to a write back of the amount of the debit.

The balances of many committees appear to be unnecessarily high, and this is especially noticeable in the case of some notified areas. The Muktsar and Pathankot municipalities have balances of more than double the year's expenditure: Moga notified area has a balance of nearly six times the expenditure, whilst in Bucho (Ferozepore), Pattoki (Lahore), Majitha (Amritsar), and Sangla (Gujranwala), the balances were three or four times the amount of the disbursements. In many cases, however, the balances have been accumulated from the sale of sites for houses or shops, and represent capital which is being husbanded until it is required for expenditure on sanitary and other improvements.

12. The total sum of Government loans to municipalities in 1913-14 amounted to Rs. 4,33,000. Lahore received one lakh for paving streets, Sialkot 3 lakhs for a water-supply scheme, and Amritsar borrowed Rs. 38,000 for the renewal of the conservancy tram line.

PART IV.—GENERAL.

13. Public health has on the whole been good, except in the Rawalpindi Division, where the towns of Sargodha and Rawalpindi suffered somewhat severely from plague, and cholera, small-pox and typhoid occurred in a sporadic form in several of the smaller towns. There were severe epidemics of cholera in Gujrat and Sialkot, and a serious outbreak of the same disease at Jullundur. In Gujrat it is reported that non-officials gave great assistance in fighting the disease, but in Sialkot the population showed a marked absence of co-operation with the authorities.

There has been some extension of railway communication, notably in the Jullundur Division, where the lines from Jullundur to Hoshiarpur and Phillaur to Lohian were opened for traffic. Railway communication has also been established between Jullundur and Nakodar, and lines from Phagwara to Rahon and from Jullundur to Tanda are under construction. The Hissar-Jakhal line was also opened during the year. The commerce and octroi income of municipal towns do not so far appear to have been affected by this development of communications.

Considerable attention is now being given to the improvement of urban sanitation. Government recently issued a resolution enjoining the employment of qualified health officers, and sanitary inspectors in the larger municipipalities, and has instituted a class for the training of sanitary inspectors. A resolution has also issued dealing with town planning, town extensions and the improvement of congested and insanitary areas. Municipalities are as a rule prevented by lack of funds from taking up any large schemes of this nature, but it is gratifying to observe that the Amritsar Committee are endeavouring to deal with some of the more congested parts of the city, and in Gurdaspur an area has been taken up for a town-planning experiment. In order to lay down principles for the guidance of municipalities in framing town planning or extension schemes a town planning committee was recently convened and the results of its deliberations, together with the model building bye-laws which it is proposed to issue, should prove of great assistance.

Though the working of several committees still leaves much to be desired, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that on the whole the municipalities are showing an increasing consciousness of their obligations, and a growing keenness and intelligence in discharging them. A genuine public spirit is undoubtedly developing, especially in the larger towns, and His Honour takes this opportunity of recording his appreciation not only of the good work performed by many committees within their own spheres of duty but also of their willingness to co-operate with, and assist the administration in other matters relating to the well-being of their communities.

ORDER—Ordered that the copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to all Commissioners of Divisions and Deputy Commissioners of Districts in the Punjab and the Secretary to the Government, Punjab, Public Works Department, Buildings and Roads Branch, and be submitted to the Government of India in the Education Department.

Also, that the remarks and a translation of them be published in the Punjab Government Gazette, English and Urdu versions, respectively, and that copies of the Urdu translation be supplied to Deputy Commissioners for the information of Municipal Committees.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, Punjab,

R. A. MANT,

Financial Secretary to Government, Punjab.
